You've been outside,
observing birds by listening and watching.

When you do this, you are learning about nature, your community and Mother Earth.

So, in this week's lesson,
we will celebrate Earth Day
with some stories
and some thinking about how you can help.

Look carefully at this picture of Earth.

How do you think this photo of Earth could have been taken?

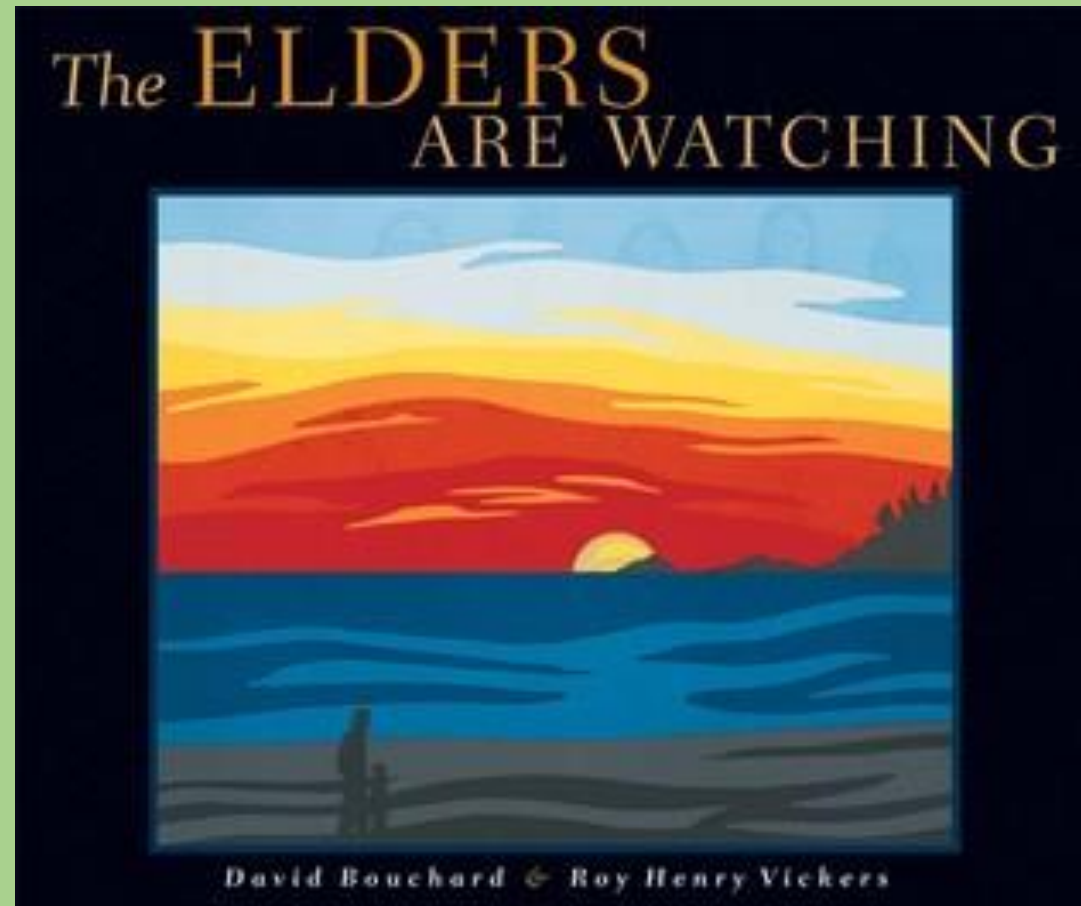

Mother Earth is a precious place.

Watch this story video.

The Elders are Watching

Earth Rise

What is the title of this photograph?

Do you see the earth in this picture?

Do you see the moon in this picture?

Where does this photo come from?

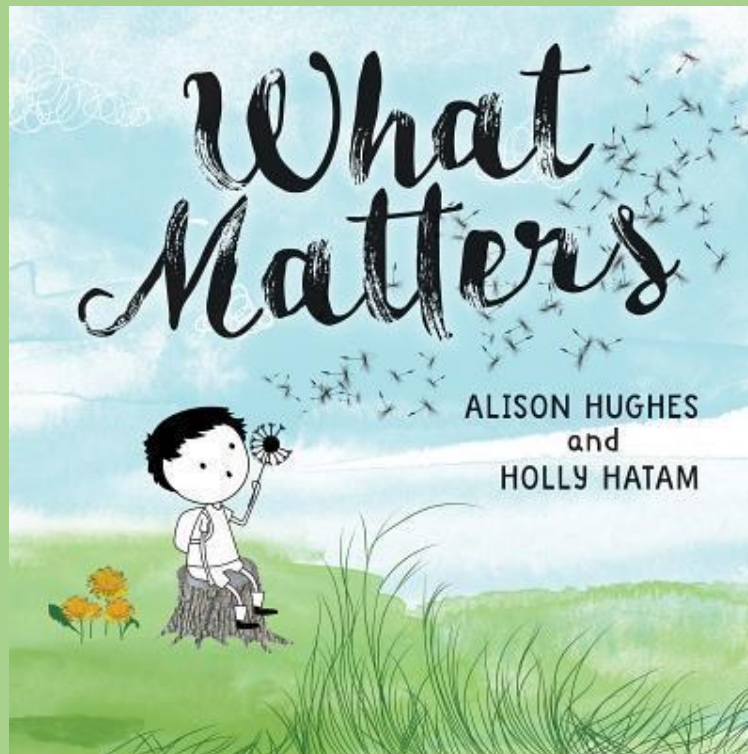

How do you think this photograph was taken?

What Matters

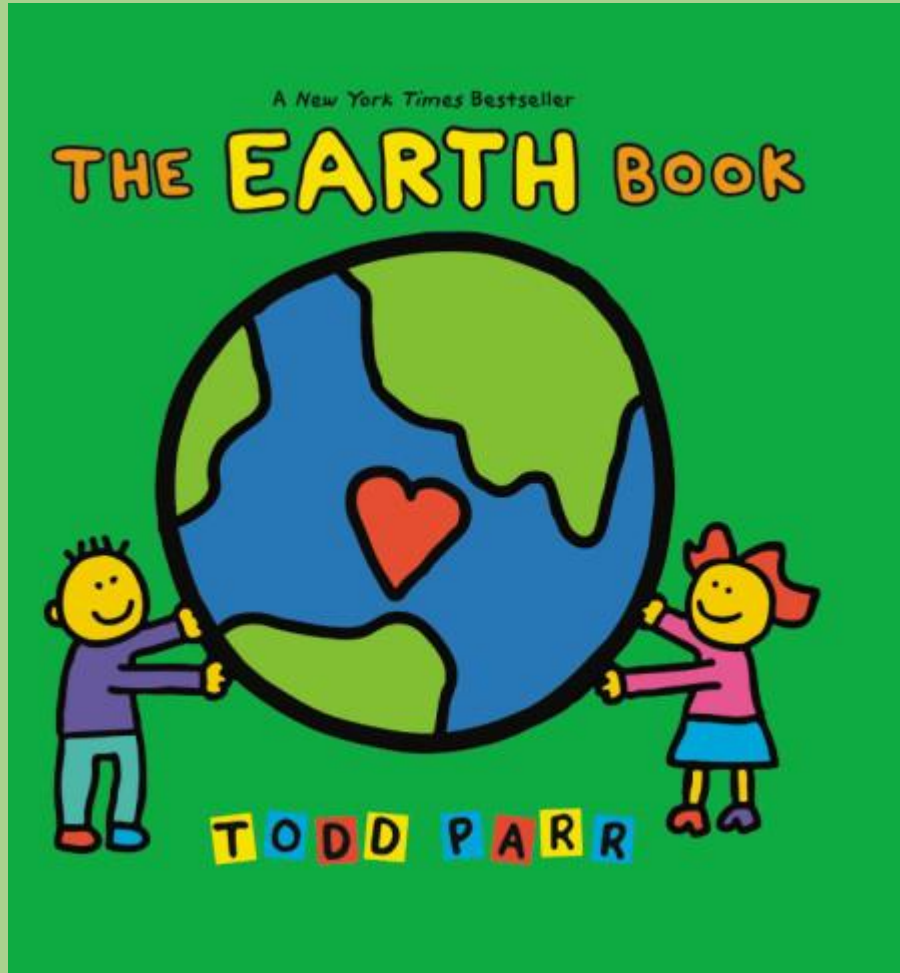

by Alison Hughes and Holly Hatam

How can something I do really make a difference to my community? Read this book to find out!

<https://www.tumblebooklibrary.com/Result.aspx?m=Title&key=What%20Matters>

I can help my community be strong and healthy.

What do you think you can do to help your community?

Think, think, think ?

If you need help with ideas, play this video where Todd Parr reads his own book; The Earth Book.

Now, it's your turn.
Go outside and observe the world around your house.

As you look around, do you think of new ideas of how you can help your community?
